Basis and Purpose
Chapter W-0 - General Provisions

Basis and Purpose:

Shed antler collection, both for commercial purposes and for recreation has seen a dramatic increase in Colorado in the last 5-10 years. This activity begins as early as January and continues through the spring months. Shed antler hunters search winter ranges, severe winter ranges and concentration areas of mule deer, elk, pronghorn, and moose. This activity can displace and move these big game animals when they are most vulnerable to stress. The result of these stresses on wintering big game can be decreased body condition, increased mortality, and decreased fawn survival.

The concerns of shed antler and horn collecting impacts on wintering mule deer and elk have been raised by CPW personnel in the Gunnison Basin as far back as 2006 with a resulting regulation on antler collecting.

In 2014, CPW personnel in the Eagle Valley raised concerns for the impacts that shed antler collecting was having in GMUs of the Eagle and Roaring Fork watersheds (GMUs 25, 26, 35, 36, 43, 344, 47, 444, and 471). Beginning in 2015, CPW approved a regulation restricting antler collecting within these GMUs.

It was of concern to CPW personnel that having antler collecting restrictions in place in some areas and not in others increased the pressure significantly in areas without closures. Additionally, different dates contribute to increased "opening day" effects. Providing consistency with a westslope-wide regulation will minimize these issues. The January 1st- April 30th dates are also consistent with the shed antler closure in Wyoming.

The primary statutory authority for these regulations can be found in § 24-4-103, C.R.S., and the state Wildlife Act, §§ 33-1-101 to 33-6-209, C.R.S., specifically including, but not limited to: §§ 33-1-106, C.R.S.

EFFECTIVE DATE - THESE REGULATIONS SHALL BECOME EFFECTIVE MAY 1, 2018 AND SHALL REMAIN IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT UNTIL REPEALED, AMENDED OR SUPERSEDED.

APPROVED AND ADOPTED BY THE PARKS AND WILDLIFE COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF COLORADO THIS 10TH DAY OF JANUARY, 2018.

10. Only one TIPs reward will be issued per poaching incident, no matter how many animals are illegally taken. Further, if more than one person reports the violation(s) and files an application, the TIPS reward will be awarded to the person the Director finds to have provided the most pertinent information regarding the violation.

The result of these stresses on wintering big game can be decreased body condition, increased mortality, and decreased fawn survival.

The concerns of shed antler and horn collecting impacts on wintering mule deer and elk have been raised by CPW personnel in the Gunnison Basin as far back as 2006 with a resulting regulation on antler collecting.

In 2014, CPW personnel in the Eagle Valley raised concerns for the impacts that shed antler collecting was having in GMUs of the Eagle and Roaring Fork watersheds (GMUs 25, 26, 35, 36, 43, 344, 47, 444, and 471). Beginning in 2015, CPW approved a regulation restricting antler collecting within these GMUs.

It was of concern to CPW personnel that having antler collecting restrictions in place in some areas and not in others increased the pressure significantly in areas without closures. Additionally, different dates contribute to increased "opening day" effects. Providing consistency with a westslope-wide regulation will minimize these issues. The January 1st- April 30th closure dates and open season dates of May 1st- December 31st are also consistent with the shed antler collection dates in Wyoming. The creation of a $40 annual antler and horn collection permit, will also allow the agency to have a better idea how much of this activity is occurring in the state.

The primary statutory authority for these regulations can be found in § 24-4-103, C.R.S., and the state Wildlife Act, §§ 33-1-101 to 33-6-209, C.R.S., specifically including, but not limited to: §§ 33-1-106, C.R.S.

EFFECTIVE DATE - THESE REGULATIONS SHALL BECOME EFFECTIVE MARCH 2, 2018 AND SHALL REMAIN IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT UNTIL REPEALED, AMENDED OR SUPERSEDED.

Basis and Purpose:

Shed antler collection, both for commercial purposes and for recreation has seen a dramatic increase in Colorado in the last 5-10 years. This activity begins as early as January and continues through the spring months. Shed antler hunters search winter ranges, severe winter ranges and concentration areas of mule deer, elk, pronghorn, and moose. This activity can displace and move these big game animals when they are most vulnerable to stress. The result of these stresses on wintering big game can be decreased body condition, increased mortality, and decreased fawn survival.

The concerns of shed antler and horn collecting impacts on wintering mule deer and elk have been raised by CPW personnel in the Gunnison Basin as far back as 2006 with a resulting regulation on antler collecting.
