COLORADO PARKS & WILDLIFE

John Martin Reservoir State Park

ENJOY YOUR STATE PARKS

Welcome to John Martin Reservoir State Park, an oasis on the plains of southeastern Colorado. Located in the Lower Arkansas River Valley, present day visitors come to John Martin to take advantage of modern campgrounds, great fishing, uncrowded boating waters, diverse wildlife viewing opportunities and to see historical signs of the past. With 415 documented species of birds in Bent County, John Martin Reservoir is a premier birding area.

Past visitors came to the Lower Arkansas River Valley to find shelter in trees along the river, food in the form of wild game and edible plants, and water. Petroglyphs in the area suggest Native Americans camped here. Lt. Zebulon Pike, Kit Carson and many other explorers followed along the Arkansas River. Years later, traders and settlers traveled through the area while on the mountain branch of the Santa Fe Trail. Remnants of this historic trail remain on the North Shore of the park.

The dam which created John Martin Reservoir was built between 1939 and 1948 as an irrigation and flood-control project by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Colorado Parks and Wildlife has managed the Lake Hasty area below the dam, the surface of John Martin Reservoir and a portion of the north shore since October 2001 through a lease agreement with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Dump Station

A dump station is located across from the Lake Hasty entrance and open year round. It is illegal and a health hazard to dump any waste or sewage (including dishwater) anywhere except into the dump station.

Accessibility

The Lake Hasty area has parking spaces and campsites that are accessible for people with disabilities. An accessible fishing pier and picnic site is available on the west shoreline of Lake Hasty. Restrooms, showers, picnic tables, drinking fountains and grills are also accessible.

Hiking

The 4.5 mile Red Shin Hiking Trail begins below the dam near the stilling basin and circles the Lake Hasty area through riparian, short-grass prairie and wetland environments. The trail then proceeds to the Santa Fe Trail marker on the north shore of John Martin Reservoir.

Fishing

Fishing is permitted anywhere on the park with a valid fishing license, except from the boat docks and areas closed to public access. The most common species caught at John Martin include walleye, saugeye, large and small mouth bass, perch, wiper, crappie, bluegill and catfish.

The same species of fish can be caught in Lake Hasty with the addition of trout. A fish cleaning station is located near the Lake Hasty Campground. Please be courteous to other visitors and do not clean fish in the laundry room or restrooms

Swimming

The only designated swim beach is at Lake Hasty below the dam. Swimming is at your own risk. No lifeguards are provided, so swimmers are urged to use caution. Children 12 years or younger must be supervised. Cliff diving and rock jumping are prohibited. The Lake Hasty Swim Beach is open Memorial Day to Labor Day.

No swimming, wading, or use of a floating device is permitted on the waters in the stilling basin or in the river below the dam to the Arkansas River bridge.

Boating

Hand-propelled craft, sailboats and boats with electric motors are permitted on Lake Hasty. John Martin Reservoir is open to all types of boating.

In efforts to try to contain the spread of Aquatic Nuisance Species (ANS), inspection of boats and trailers is required before launching every boat at John Martin.

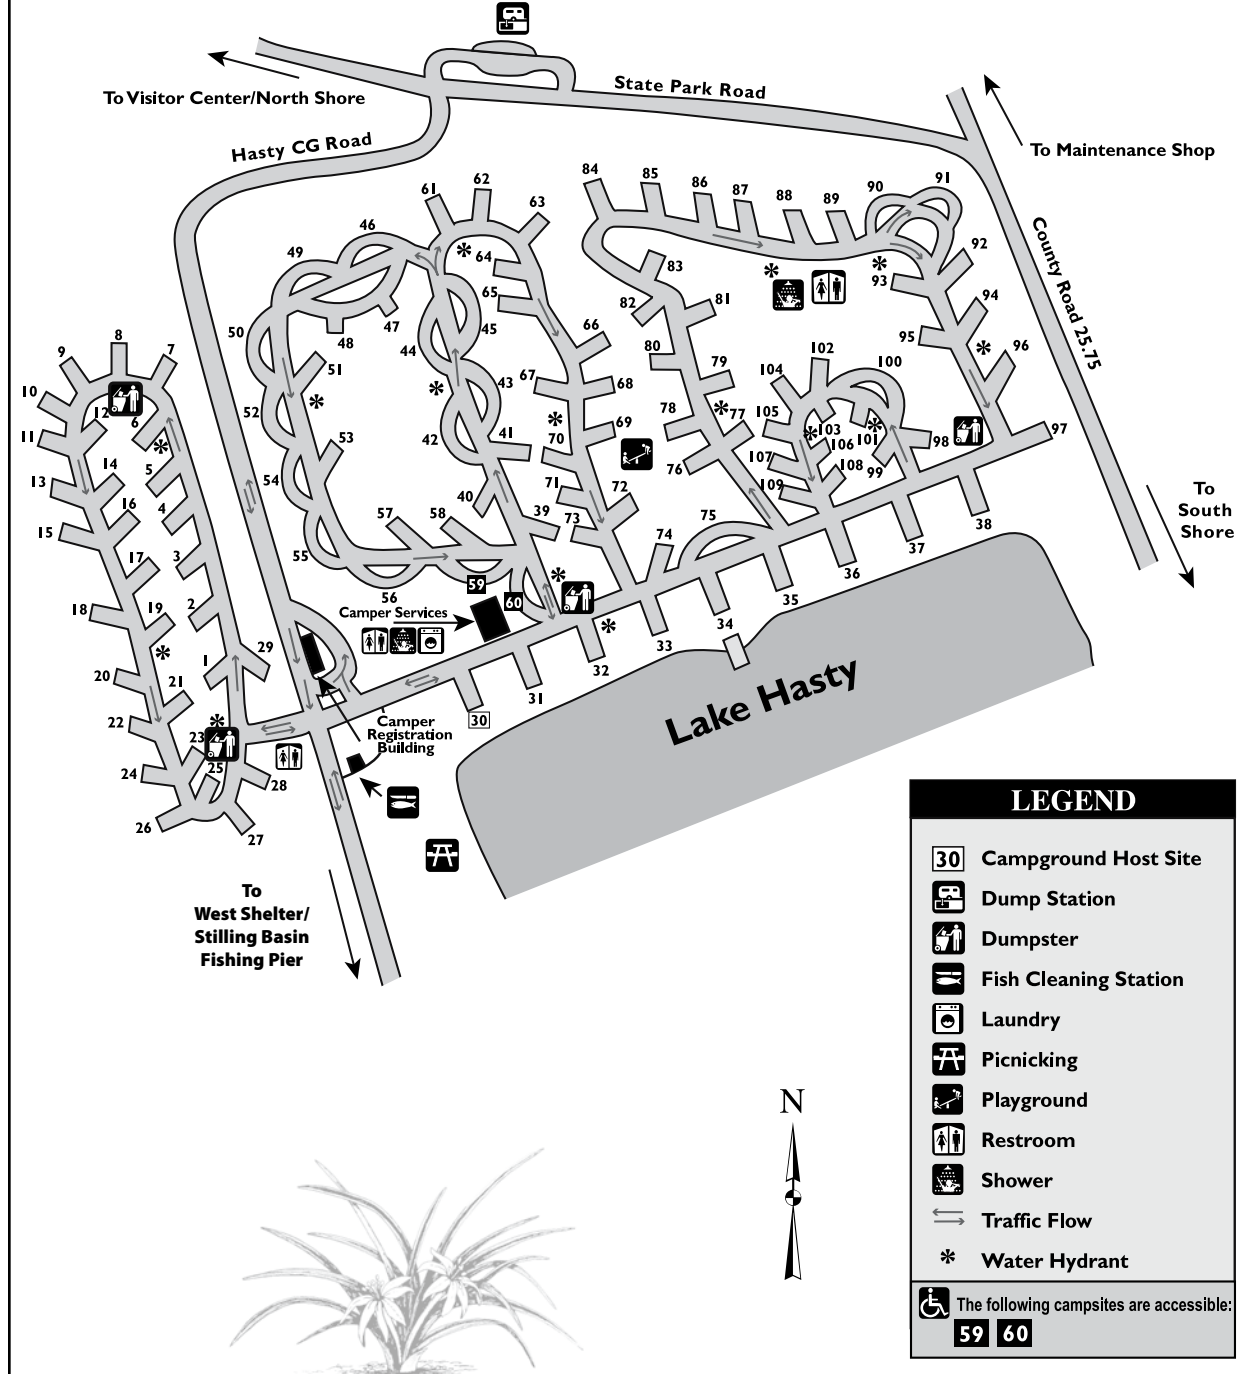

During waterfowl season, John Martin Reservoir is closed to boating from the waterfowl closure line east to the dam from November 1 through March 15 of each year or as posted except to retrieve downed waterfowl.

Boaters must observe Colorado boating statutes and regulations, which are available in brochure form at the park.

Be on the lookout for areas that are temporarily closed to all public access to protect threatened and endangered bird nesting and brooding areas.

The water level at John Martin Reservoir can fluctuate. Boaters are warned to be especially alert to floating debris, submerged hazards and shallow areas that may not be marked.

Wildlife

John Martin supports a diverse community of wildlife. A few of the commonly seen animals include deer, coyote, rabbits, raccoons, squirrels, and prairie dogs. Resident and migratory birds abound at John Martin making the park a bird-watcher's paradise.

Hunting is not permitted within the park boundary, but is permitted on the John Martin State Wildlife Area adjoining the State Park.

Threatened & Endangered Wildlife

The sand and gravel shores of John Martin are among the few remaining nesting areas in Colorado for the threatened Piping Plover and the endangered Interior Least Tern. In an effort to conserve these species, portions of the shoreline and the reservoir surface are temporarily closed to all public access during the nesting and brooding season.

In addition, bald eagles winter at John Martin. Eagles particularly like the large trees of the Lake Hasty Campground. In order to protect these roost sites, some campsites are closed in the treed area of the campground from November 1 to March 15th of each year.

Any trespass into a closed area is a violation of State and Federal law. The best action to take upon observing a closure is to avoid it completely.
