

Boyd Lake State Park

Who we are

Boyd Lake State Park is a popular northern Colorado day-use, camping, and water sports recreation area. The lake's 1,700 surface acres offer all types of water recreation including boating, sailing, paddling, water skiing/wakeboarding, fishing and swimming. Park amenities include: camping facilities, picnic areas, swim beach with paddle board rentals, boat ramps, showers, a regionally connected bicycle/walking trail, a marina store with boat rentals and vessel mooring, a group picnic facility and more.

Top attractions

- Boyd Lake provides camping, fishing, bike trail access and water recreational opportunities for the northern Front Range.
- Boyd Lake serves as a base for visitors making trips to Rocky Mountain National Park, Estes Park, Budweiser Event Center and local regional events.
- The Loveland Trail runs through the park, providing opportunities to run, walk and bike through the park and access the surrounding communities.

Challenges we face

- Preventing the spread of aquatic nuisance species (ANS) by inspecting boats, developing partnerships with shoreline neighbors and providing training and education on the impacts of ANS and how to prevent their spread
- Changing operational needs with increased visitation, urban pressures and changing visitor expectations
- Updating the park's aging infrastructure – most of the park's infrastructure was built in the 1980's and is being updated or replaced as funding allows, in accordance with the guidelines of the 2015 Boyd Lake Redevelopment Plan

Volunteer activities

- Camp host program volunteers provide over 7,000 hours of annual volunteer service to the campground, which regularly earns visitor praises of the "cleanest and best maintained campground we have visited."
- Court-ordered volunteers help prepare and maintain the park. Under careful supervision, these individuals benefit the park and improve visitors' experiences.
