Chapter P-1 - Parks and Outdoor Recreation Lands

Basis and Purpose:

Clarification of the Consecutive Stay Rule for Camping on Parks and Outdoor Recreation Lands

Previous regulations allowed individuals to camp on state park and outdoor recreation lands for no more than 14 days in any forty-five consecutive day period, except when an extension of no more than 14 additional days was approved. However, groups were previously able to circumvent the maximum consecutive stay rule by reserving campsites for 14 days under one group member's information, and then reserving additional days by another group member.

Through these regulatory changes, CPW staff have clarified multiple aspects of the consecutive stay rule and have removed loopholes that were previously in place. First, the term 'individual' has been defined for the purpose of the consecutive stay rule to mean any person who has occupied a site, whether or not they are formally listed on the reservation as the reserving party or primary occupant. Second, the regulation now only allows a one-time, maximum of 14-days extension/exception to the consecutive stay rule, per park, by the park manager. Lastly, to ensure consistency between CPW's camping reservation system and regulation, the period of time during which an individual may camp for a maximum of fourteen days has been modified from a 45-day period to a 28-day period.

Personal Floatation Device Requirement for Swimming Within AHRA Whitewater Parks

Swimming is permitted in the Arkansas River from the confluence of the East Fork and Lake Fork, within the boundaries of the Arkansas Headwaters Recreation Area (AHRA). Additionally, inner tubes, air mattresses, and similar devices may be used in the same section of the river, with the majority of use occurring within four designated whitewater parks.

Previous regulations required all swimmers under the age of 13 and all occupants of inner tubes, air mattresses, and similar devices to wear a personal floatation device while in the Arkansas River within the AHRA. To further improve safety at the four designated whitewater parks, these regulations have been modified to require all persons swimming within a designated AHRA whitewater park, regardless of age, to wear a personal floatation device.

Elimination of dog restriction at Harvey Gap State Park

Previously, dogs were prohibited at Harvey Gap State Park, unless used for hunting from the Tuesday after Labor Day until the Friday before Memorial Day. The former restriction on dogs was due to agricultural water collection that occurred at the reservoir. As such water collection no longer takes place at the reservoir, and to provide consistency with other state parks in the vicinity, the special restriction limiting dogs at Harvey Gap State Park has been eliminated. This change was supported by the Silt Water Conservancy Board, the entity who originally requested the no dogs provision.

Removing the 10 horsepower maximum limit for boaters on Blue Heron Reservoir at St. Vrain State Park

Boating on Blue Heron Reservoir at St. Vrain State Park is restricted to no-wake operations only. Previous regulations also prohibited boat motors of more than 10 horsepower at Blue Heron Reservoir. Four years after being open to the public, park staff no longer feel the 10 horsepower restriction is necessary to maintain the water as a safe, high quality fishery given the additional no-wake restriction. Furthermore, sometimes having a larger motor is beneficial for launching and loading boats and getting off the water quickly in the case of storms or other emergencies.

The statements of basis and purpose for these regulations can be viewed and copies obtained from the Colorado Division of Parks and Wildlife, Office of the Regulations Manager, Policy and Planning Unit, 1313 Sherman, Room 111, Denver, CO 80203.

The primary statutory authority for these regulations can be found in § 24-4-103, C.R.S., and the state Parks Act, §§ 33-10-101 to 33-33-113, C.R.S., and specifically including, but not limited to: §§ 33-10-106, C.R.S.

EFFECTIVE DATE - THESE REGULATIONS SHALL BECOME EFFECTIVE NOVEMBER 1, 2019 AND SHALL REMAIN IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT UNTIL REPEALED, AMENDED OR SUPERSEDED.

APPROVED AND ADOPTED BY THE PARKS AND WILDLIFE COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF COLORADO THIS 5TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 2019.
