

Gary Thorson, Assistant Director, Information and Education Branch, Colorado Parks and Wildlife

As Assistant Director of Information and Education, Gary is responsible for management and oversight of creative services, education, marketing, outreach, partnerships, public information, publications, video productions, volunteers, information technology and web management for Colorado Parks and Wildlife. Prior to joining Colorado Department of Natural Resources, Colorado Parks and Wildlife in 2003, Gary served as the Development Director for Utah Department of Natural Resources, Division of Utah State Parks and Outdoor Recreation. Prior to Utah, Gary spent 19 years working for Wyoming State Parks and Historic Sites and served as Director from 1990 - 1999. Gary has lectured on park, outdoor recreation and natural resource issues at conferences, symposia and at the National State Park Leadership School in Wheeling, West Virginia. Gary holds a Bachelor's degree in Parks and Recreation Administration from the University of Nebraska and completed graduate work at the University of Wyoming. Gary lives in the Denver Metro area with his wife Lisa and their four daughters.