

Heath Kirschner, Founder and President, Running Rivers

Heath has more than 15 years of experience developing, maintaining, and expanding businesses across industries. In addition to running Mountain Goat Kids, Heath is the Director of Health Economic and Reimbursement for a global medical device company. Prior to entering the health care industry, Heath spent eight years building a commercial real estate firm in the Denver metro area, as well as a luxury destination club with 35 properties all over the world. In 2014, Heath decided to combine his passions for trail running and kids to start Mountain Goat Kids. What started as one event with 40 kid's participating has turned into a recognized series throughout Colorado attracting 175-275 kids per event. As a Colorado native, Heath is an avid trail runner, skier, mountain biker and adventurer. With two young girls, he is passionate about exposing today's youth to the amazing experiences one can have by living an active and healthy outdoor lifestyle.
