

Matt Gray

Matt Gray currently serves as the Executive Director of the Rocky Mountain Innovation Lab, a Denver-based organization dedicated to Coaching Creative Leadership and Organizational Development. Sample projects include facilitating and implementing strategic plans, leadership coaching for executives and new professionals, and mission development for government agencies and small businesses. Matt is also an avid writer and brings the beauty of the written word and storytelling to help individuals and organizations better communicate their visions. Whether in the classroom or in a strategy session, Matt recognizes the power of collaboration and the strengths that each individual brings to community. He relies on these as the foundation of his work. Most importantly, Matt can usually be found in Colorado's fine open space and public lands, running, exploring with his family, or gazing at birds and expansive panoramas.
