

Rachel Pokrandt, Colorado Mountain College

Rachel Pokrandt is a Vice President at Colorado Mountain College and the Campus Dean at the Leadville Campus. Rachel is a native of the UK and moved to Aspen 28 years ago to become a ski bum for one season. After falling in love with mountain based adventures she has made a life and raised a family in the mountain towns of Colorado. Rachel holds a B.A. in Theatre and British Literature, an MBA, and a Doctorate in Management. Rachel has been at CMC for 5 years prior to which she was Director of Education at Beyond Benign and the Warner Babcock Institute for Green Chemistry, and the Director of Professional Education and Leadership at the Keystone Center where she worked with industry and government partners such as the EPA, NASA, Department of Energy, Dow Chemical, and Pfizer Pharmaceuticals, providing sustainability training for K-12 and post-secondary educators in 11 countries. Rachel resides in Leadville CO with her husband and dog.