Why are you seeking to create or revise this rule? Please include a general statement of the reasons for the requested rule or revision and any relevant information related to the request.

The Chatfield Watershed Authority (“CWA”) seeks to establish a water quality fee for certain visitors to Chatfield State Park (the “Park”) in order to support water quality projects throughout the entire Chatfield watershed. A list of proposed water quality projects throughout the watershed that this funding would support is attached to this rulemaking petition form as Exhibit A. Pursuant to SB23-267, the list includes both projects within the Park and in the broader watershed, and up to 25 percent of the funds raised from the proposed fee would go toward projects within the Park.

Recreators and other visitors to the Park benefit from high-quality water, which allows them to swim, boat, and fish in Chatfield Reservoir. Park visitors can also negatively impact water quality, such as additional erosion from wave activity as well as direct impacts from boats and vehicles, including runoff, leaks, and spills. For a variety of reasons, poor water quality in Colorado reservoirs can impact recreation and lead to toxic algal blooms, which necessitates closing the reservoir to citizens. Although Chatfield Reservoir has never experienced a toxic algal bloom, it has been closed due to concerning water quality and non-toxic algal blooms in the past. Maintaining water quality in Chatfield Reservoir will protect its designated uses, which include aquatic life, recreation, and water supply.

Furthermore, as the region’s population continues to grow and development expands further into the Chatfield watershed, protecting the water quality of Chatfield Reservoir has become increasingly difficult and costly, while record amounts of citizens are visiting the Park to enjoy its water and other amenities. CWA’s member entities already expend millions of dollars on work aimed at maintaining and improving water quality throughout the Chatfield watershed; at the same time, state and federal regulations continue to tighten and have and will continue to necessitate expensive water treatment processes and facility upgrades. To ensure that Chatfield Reservoir maintains its high-quality water and remains open to the public throughout the summer months, stakeholders (including park visitors) must work together to tackle water quality issues on all fronts.

CWA has been dedicated to protecting water quality throughout the Chatfield watershed for over forty years, and this additional funding is necessary to support the development and construction of water quality projects that will help continue CWA’s mission in the face of record visitation and rapid development. For a variety of reasons, including increased costs associated with state regulatory compliance, CWA lacks the funds to support the scale of projects necessary to protect the water quality of the Chatfield watershed, and this small fee will help support CWA’s efforts to implement many of the important projects included on the list attached as Exhibit A.
