Harvey Gap State Park

ENJOY YOUR STATE PARKS

cpw.state.co.us

Harvey Gap State Park, six miles east of Rifle Gap State Park, is a favorite spot with anglers. The 160-acre lake is stocked with a variety of cold and warm water fish including rainbow trout, crappie, catfish, northern pike, tiger muskie, and smallmouth bass.

Known for its clean water and shaded picnic sites, Harvey Gap also offers hiking, boating and picnicking. And, in the winter, enthusiasts can cross-country ski and ice fish.

Managed by Colorado Parks and Wildlife, this day-use only area sits at an elevation of 6,400 feet. Harvey Gap State Park is beautiful cedar and sagebrush habitat, with a Grand Hogback-mountain ridge that runs along the backside of the park.

The original earthen dam at Harvey Gap also provides a get-away-from-it-all haven for recreationists.

Camping

Camping is not allowed at Harvey Gap. Camping is permitted at Rifle Gap and Rifle Falls state parks, both only a short drive from Harvey Gap.

Picnicking

Harvey Gap maintains 30 picnic sites with grills. Some sites line the reservoir, while others sit on an overlook above the lake.

Water Recreation

Boating, (20 H.P. or less motors), swimming in wakeless areas, sailing and paddleboarding are all popular activities at Harvey Gap. Boating is closed seasonally from Nov. 1st thru March 31st.

Fishing

Trout and pike fishing at Harvey Gap is some of the best around during the summer. Fishermen can also catch catfish, perch and crappie here. Wintertime offers rainbow trout and northern pike for the avid ice fisherman.

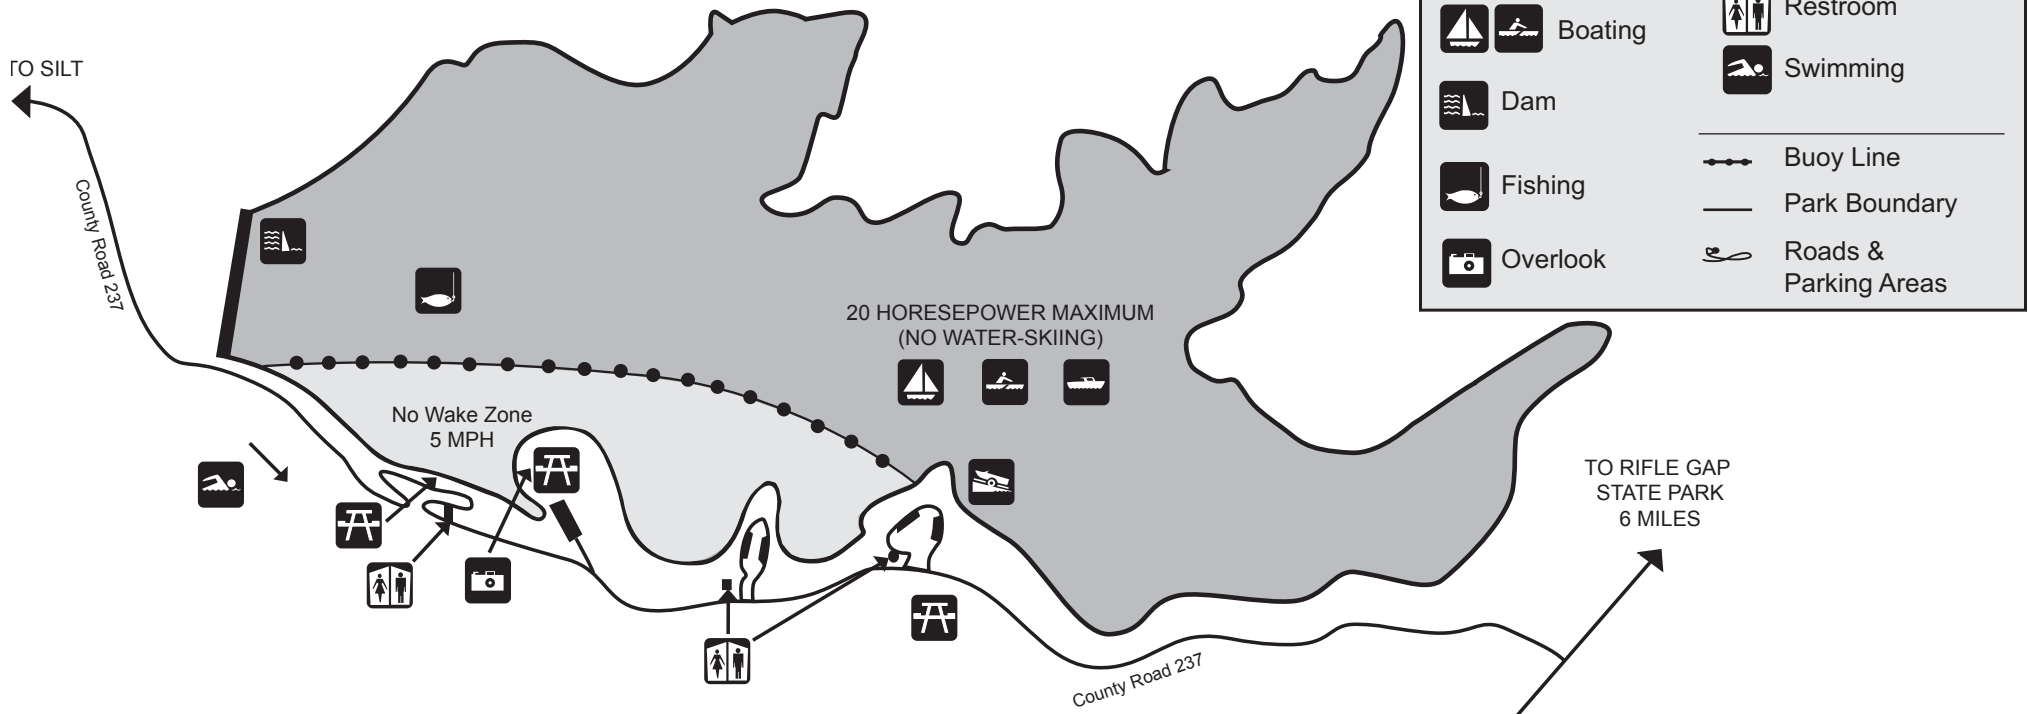

Hunting

Small game and waterfowl are the most popular during hunting seasons. There is excellent big game hunting in the White River National Forest and on lands administered by the U.S. Bureau of Land Management, both near the park. Information on seasons and regulations is available from any park ranger.

There is no park office at Harvey Gap. The park office is located on the east side of Rifle Gap Reservoir. From Harvey Gap, head north on County Road 237, turn west on County Road 226. Drive five miles to State Highway 325. Turn left, drive one mile south to the main entrance for Rifle Gap State Park. A visitor's center will greet you with interpretive displays, restrooms and park staff.

Wildlife

Mule deer, beavers, chipmunks, rabbits, bobcats and weasels live at Harvey Gap. A wide variety of ducks, waterfowl, eagles and hawks are found here also.

Winter Recreation

Cold weather enthusiasts come to Harvey Gap to cross-country ski, ice skate, ice fish and watch for wildlife.

Community Facilities

All commercial and religious facilities are available in Silt, approximately five miles from Harvey Gap. Medical facilities are available in Rifle approximately 13 miles from Harvey Gap.

Passes and Permits

All vehicles entering the park are required to display a current Colorado State Parks Pass on their auto windshield. Anybody entering the park by any means other than a vehicle (on foot, bicycle, etc.), a daily individual pass is required. A daily pass is valid from the day purchased until noon the following day. An annual pass is valid at any Colorado State Park. For annual pass holders who own another vehicle, a multiple pass is available for an additional fee. Passes are available at the main park entrances and self-service dispensers.

Aspen Leaf annual passes are available to Colorado seniors 64 and older at a discounted rate. These allow admission to all state parks every day.

Colorado disabled veterans displaying Colorado Disabled Veteran (DV) license plates are admitted free without a pass.
