

Burrowing Owls

Burrowing owls nest in holes! They live in empty prairie dog burrows. These small owls have a mix of sandy brown and white feathers. These colors match their dirt homes and hide them from predators.

Burrowing owls look different from most owls. They have short tails and long legs. They do not have ear tuft feathers. They have white feathers over their bright yellow eyes and a white chin. They look like they have white eyebrows and beards!

