

Humpback Chub

Do you know what a humpback chub is? A humpback chub is a fish! It lives in the Colorado River. The water moves very fast in the Colorado River. Can you see the hump on the fish's back? The hump helps the fish swim in very fast water.

Fish are usually covered with scales. The humpback chub is different from other fish. It only has 80 scales! This makes the fish very slick so it can swim in the fast water.

Most people have never heard of a humpback chub. Now you can tell grownups all about this very different fish!
