APPENDIX K Photo Monitoring

This Appendix section includes 41 photo monitoring points that may be useful to Cheyenne Mountain State Park in monitoring recreation facilities, infrastructure, and trail use over time. By documenting the overall conditions in specific areas of the park at a given point in time, Cheyenne Mountain staff will have a baseline from which to compare future conditions, and potentially adapt management, if needed.

Ten photos were obtained from the Capital Development Program's asset inventory and are named with the letter 'R' followed by a series of numbers. For example: R0012628.JPG. These photos were not taken facing the four cardinal points.

The other twenty nine photos are named in the following manner and were taken facing the four cardinal points:

Park Abbreviation_GPS Point_Photo Number_Direction Facing

For example:

- Cheyenne Mountain GPS point 1, photo 1, facing North is named: CHM_1_1_0
- Cheyenne Mountain GPS point 1, photo 2, facing East is named: CHM_1_2_90
- Cheyenne Mountain GPS point 2, photo 9, facing 45° is named: CHM_2_9_45

Note: All directional bearings are based off Magnetic North. The magnetic declination at Cheyenne Mountain State Park is 8° 44' E and changes by 0° 7' W per year¹.
